GLOBAL CERTIFICATE PROGRAM FOR
REGULATORS OF SECURITIES MARKETS

December 3-7, 2018
Harvard Law School, Cambridge, MA
Welcome to Harvard Law School!

The Program on International Financial Systems (PIFS) is honored to be hosting you for Phase II of the Global Certificate Program (GCP). We have created a diverse program that will be taught by prominent and experienced speakers from academia, industry, and government.

Phase II serves as the culmination of your GCP educational experience. During this week, experts will teach you about critically important regulatory issues. Topics that you will be exposed to include: issues in criminal and civil enforcement; the development and role of FinTech and RegTech; corporate governance; systemic risk; initial coin offerings; cross-border regulatory coordination; market supervision; and the evolution and role of public and private capital markets. We hope that whether these are new and emerging issues for you, or ones that you already think about deeply, you will be able to use what you learn this week to confront and address future regulatory challenges faced by your jurisdiction.

My team at PIFS is ready and eager to make your experience as enjoyable as possible. Please do not hesitate to ask them for assistance. I look forward to meeting you and thank you for choosing to join us.

Sincerely,

HAL S. SCOTT

Kenechukwu E. Anadu
Supervisory Research and Analysis Unit
Federal Reserve Bank of Boston

Kenechukwu Anadu, CFA, CAIA is a Senior Financial Markets Specialist at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston’s (Boston Fed) Risk and Policy Analysis Unit. Mr. Anadu’s responsibilities include leading the Boston Fed’s Asset Management Committee, which is charged with identifying, assessing, and monitoring the potential risks to Boston Fed-supervised institutions and financial stability posed by the asset management industry. Mr. Anadu also briefs Boston Fed management on recent developments in the short-term U.S. Dollar funding markets, among other things. Before joining the Boston Fed in 2011, he served as a Fixed Income Investment Analyst at the Massachusetts Pension Reserves Investment Management Board (PRIM).

Prior to PRIM, he was an Analyst in Bank of America’s Global Wealth and Investment Management group. Mr. Anadu earned a BSc. in computer engineering technology from Northeastern University and an MBA from the F.W. Olin Graduate School of Business at Babson College, where he also served as Executive Portfolio Manager of the Babson College Fund. He is both a Chartered Financial Analyst and Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst Charterholder.
Paul Andrews was appointed as Secretary General in December 2015 and joined IOSCO in March 2016. In this role, he is responsible for supporting the pursuit of IOSCO’s strategic objectives and leading the General Secretariat.

Prior to joining IOSCO, Mr. Andrews spent 18 years at the Financial Industry Regulatory Authority (FINRA) in Washington D.C. From 2003 to March 2016, he served as Vice President and Managing Director, International Affairs, at FINRA, the largest independent regulator for all U.S. securities firms. In this capacity he directed FINRA’s international engagements and worked closely with key regulators and regulatory bodies worldwide, including IOSCO.

Prior to FINRA, Mr. Andrews spent eight years at the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. During this time, he worked in the Division of Market Regulation (now Trading and Markets) and the Office of the General Counsel. In these capacities, he led the international affairs office in Market Regulation, and analyzed various legal and policy issues concerning the structure of securities markets, market intermediaries, and dispute resolution. Prior to the SEC, Mr. Andrews spent four years in private legal practice in Washington, D.C.

Douglas W. Arner is the Kerry Holdings Professor in Law at the University of Hong Kong (HKU) and one of the world’s leading experts on financial regulation, particularly the intersection between law, finance and technology. At HKU, he is Faculty Director of the Faculty of Law’s LLM in Compliance and Regulation, LLM in Corporate and Financial Law and Law, Innovation, Technology and Entrepreneurship (LITE) Programme. He is a member of the Hong Kong Financial Services Development Council, an Executive Committee Member of the Asia Pacific Structured Finance Association, and a Senior Visiting Fellow of Melbourne Law School, University of Melbourne. He led the development of the world’s largest massive open online course (MOOC): Introduction to FinTech, launched on edX in May 2018, now with over 30,000 learners from every country in the world. Douglas served as Head of the HKU Department of Law from 2011 to 2014 and as Co-Director of the Duke University-HKU Asia-America Institute in Transnational Law from 2005 to 2016. From 2006 to 2011 he was the Director of HKU’s Asian Institute of International Financial Law, which he co-founded in 1999, and from 2012 to 2018, he led a major research project on Hong Kong’s future as a leading international financial centre. He has published fifteen books and more than 150 articles, chapters and reports on international financial law and regulation, including most recently Reconceptualising Global Finance and its Regulation (Cambridge 2016) (with Ross Buckley and Emilios Avgouleas). The RegTech Book (with Janos Barberis and Ross Buckley) will be out at the beginning of 2019. His recent papers are available on SSRN at https://papers.ssrn.com/sol3/cf_dev/AbsByAuth.cfm?per_id=524849, where he is among the top 150 authors in the world by total downloads. Douglas has served as a consultant with, among others, the World Bank, Asian Development Bank, APEC, Alliance for Financial Inclusion, and European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, and has lectured, co-organised conferences and seminars and been involved with financial sector reform projects around the world. He has been a visiting professor or fellow at Duke, Harvard, the Hong Kong Institute for Monetary Research, IDC Herzliya, McGill, Melbourne, National University of Singapore, University of New South Wales, Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, and Zurich, among others.

WILLIAM COEN
Secretary General, Basel Committee on Banking Supervision
Bank for International Settlements

As Secretary General of the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision, William (Bill) Coen directs its work and manages its Secretariat. The Basel Committee is the international group of central bankers and banking supervisors responsible for setting global prudential standards for banks. Its mandate is to strengthen the regulation, supervision and practices of banks worldwide with the purpose of enhancing financial stability.

Bill was appointed as Secretary General in 2014 and currently serves as chair of the Basel Committee’s Policy Development Group, which formulated the Basel III post-crisis reforms that were endorsed by the Basel Committee’s governing body – the Central Bank Governors and Heads of Supervision – in December 2017. In addition to its role to establish prudential standards, the PDG is responsible for evaluating and assessing the impact of the Committee’s post-crisis reforms. Bill has also chaired the Committee’s Task Force on Corporate Governance and the Coherence and Calibration Task Force. Prior to his appointment as Secretary General, Bill served as Deputy Secretary General. Appointed to that role in 2007, he managed the daily activities and workstreams of the Basel Committee and its Secretariat. His specific responsibilities as Deputy Secretary General focused on the Basel Committee’s response to the financial crisis, including the coordination of the Committee’s various Basel III policy initiatives.

Bill joined the Basel Committee’s Secretariat in 1999 from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System in Washington, D.C. During his career at the Federal Reserve, he worked in areas related to banking policy, supervision and licensing. Before joining the Federal Reserve, he was a bank examiner for the U.S. Office of the Comptroller of the Currency. Bill began his career as a credit officer of a New York City-based bank, where he served as an Assistant Vice President responsible for consumer credit and retail mortgage lending.

Bill is a member of the Bretton Woods Committee and the IFRS Advisory Council. He is a native of New York City and received his Master of Business Administration degree from Fordham University (1991) and Bachelor of Science degree from Manhattan College (1984).

TIMOTHY MASSAD
Former Chairman
U.S. Commodity Futures Trading Commission
Senior Fellow, Mossavar-Rahmani Center for Business and Government
Harvard Kennedy School

Timothy Massad was sworn-in as Chairman of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission (CFTC) on June 5, 2014, after being confirmed by the United States Senate as Chairman and as a Commissioner of the CFTC. Previously, Mr. Massad was nominated by President Obama and confirmed by the U.S. Senate as the Assistant Secretary for Financial Stability at the U.S. Department of the Treasury. In that capacity, Mr. Massad oversaw the Troubled Asset Relief Program (TARP), the principal U.S. governmental response to the 2008 financial crisis designed to help stabilize the economy and provide help to homeowners. Under TARP, Treasury’s investments in financial institutions, the credit markets and the auto industry prevented the economy from falling into a depression. Mr. Massad was responsible for the day-to-day management and recovery of TARP funds, and during his tenure, Treasury recovered more on all the crisis investments than was disbursed.

Mr. Massad also served as Chief Counsel for the program prior to becoming Assistant Secretary. Prior to joining Treasury, Mr. Massad served as a legal advisor to the Congressional Oversight Panel for the Troubled Asset Relief Program, under the leadership of (now Sen.) Elizabeth Warren. Mr. Massad assisted the panel in its first report evaluating the investments made by Treasury under TARP. Prior to his government service, Mr. Massad was a partner in the law firm of Cravath, Swaine & Moore, LLP. Mr. Massad had a broad corporate practice with a focus on corporate finance and financial markets. He helped to draft the original standardized agreements for swaps and helped many businesses negotiate and execute transactions to hedge exposures in the derivatives markets. Mr. Massad earned his bachelor’s and law degrees at Harvard.

Travel

The main campus of Harvard University is located in and around Harvard Square. From the Square, Harvard Law School is a five-minute walk to the north. Transit is provided by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, which everyone refers to as ‘the T’, identifiable by the roundel on its stations, trains, and buses. The Red Line subway stops in the center of Harvard Square, with access to downtown Boston (about 20 minutes), MIT (about 10 minutes), and South Station (25 minutes). Subway fares are $2.75 to any point in the system, $12 for a one-day pass, and $21.25 for a seven-day pass.

The Transit app, available on the iTunes and Android stores, is endorsed by the T and provides real-time information about nearby subway and bus services.

Flights arrive and depart Boston’s Logan International Airport to and from all parts of the world. Logan is accessible by public transportation – Silver Line bus service is free departing from the airport and connects to the Red Line at South Station. Metered taxis (prices vary) are readily available at the airport. Uber (about $23 to Harvard) is available at the airport’s AppRide/TNC pickup lots.

The bike-sharing service Hubway is available throughout Boston and Cambridge. Cycling is highly popular and an efficient way to travel, but please exercise caution. A daily membership ($8) can be purchased at any Hubway station. In addition to Uber and Lyft, several taxi companies operate in Cambridge. Note that taxi drivers often expect payment in cash. Ambassador Brattle Cab can be contacted at 617-492-1100 and Cambridge Taxi Cab at 617-649-7000.

Basic Needs

A CVS store in Harvard Square offers a limited selection of essentials. Harvard Square lacks a supermarket, so the closest option is Star Market in Porter Square (Porter Square Shopping Center, 49 White St, Cambridge, MA 02140), which is open 24 hours and adjacent to the Porter Square Red Line station (one stop 'outbound' from Harvard). Another option is LaVerde’s Market, a convenience store with an expanded selection of items, located in the Stratton Student Center at MIT (about 10 minutes and $5 by Uber; also accessible by the T’s Number 1 bus).

Emergencies

For on-campus emergencies call Harvard University Police at 617-495-1212. The universal emergency number in the United States is 911; be aware that when calling from a mobile phone the call will be answered by a State Police dispatcher, who will ask for your location in order to send the appropriate responders.
Dining Out

Harvard Square offers an extensive variety of establishments for breakfast, lunch, and dinner. Some of our staff’s favorites are listed here:

Darwin’s Ltd
148 Mount Auburn Street
Breakfast, Sandwiches, Baked goods
This cozy café offers a selection of named sandwiches (e.g. the ‘J.F. Kennedy’), baked goods, coffee/tea, and beer/wine (for take-away only). Breakfast is served from 7:00 – 10:30 a.m.

Flour
114 Mount Auburn Street
Breakfast, Sandwiches, Baked goods
With a similar selection to Darwin’s, this just-opened establishment can be very crowded around lunchtime, so it is helpful to phone your order in to 617-714-3205.

Crema Cafe
The Atrium, 27 Brattle Street
Breakfast, Sandwiches, Baked goods
A slightly different take on a coffee shop, notably for its wider selection of soups.

Cambridge 1
27 Church Street
Pizza
The Best of Boston award-winning, thin crust, charcoal-grilled pizzas are always made fresh to order. Also offers soups, salads, and pasta.

Border Cafe
32 Church Street
Mexican
The real appeal of this place is its ambience; the music selection and availability of Lone Star Beer is like a little piece of Texas in the heart of Cambridge.

Harvest
44 Brattle Street
Modern American
A fine-dining interpretation of classic New England and American staple foods.

Alden & Harlow
40 Brattle Street
Modern American
Subterranean restaurant serving creative New American fare and cocktails on tap in rustic-chic digs.

Legal Sea Foods
Charles Square, 20 University Road
Seafood
A Boston-area institution, Legal Sea Foods offers a high-quality and reasonably-priced selection of fish and shellfish, including lobster. This location is in the same complex as the Charles Hotel, which also includes Henrietta’s Table – the hotel restaurant with a varied menu – and Noir, the hotel bar.

Shake Shack
92 Winthrop Street
Hamburgers etc.
A popular chain restaurant with a menu of burgers, fries, and milkshakes reminiscent of American diners of the 1950s.

Grendel’s Den
89 Winthrop Street
Pub
Named after a monster in the Old English epic Beowulf, Grendel’s is a far friendlier, comfortable pub with a varied menu.

Grafton Street Pub
1230 Massachusetts Avenue
Pub
A relaxed pub with a good selection of food and drink.

In addition to the establishments listed above, the Caspersen Student Center, located adjacent to Wasserstein Hall, contains the Harkness Cafeteria (2nd floor, 7:30 a.m. - 2:00 p.m.) and HLS Pub (1st floor, 5:00 - 10:00 p.m.)
