Speaker Biographies

David Alfred Hoffman

Steed Family Professor of the Practices of Cybersecurity Policy at the Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University

David Hoffman is the Steed Family Professor of the Practice of Cybersecurity Policy at the Sanford School of Public Policy. He also formerly was the Associate General Counsel, Director of Security Policy and Global Privacy Officer for Intel Corporation.

Hoffman formerly chaired the Civil Liberties and Privacy Panel for the Director's Advisory Board for the US National Security Agency. He also chairs the board of the Center for Cybersecurity Policy and Law, and serves on the Advisory Boards for the Future of Privacy Forum and the Israel Tech Policy Institute. Hoffman also founded and chairs the board for the Triangle Privacy Research Hub, which highlights and fosters cybersecurity and privacy academic research done in the North Carolina Research Triangle.

Hoffman previously served on the Department of Homeland Security's Data Privacy and Integrity Advisory Committee and the Board of Directors of the National Cyber Security Alliance. He has also served on the U.S. Federal Trade Commission's Online Access and Security Committee, the Center for Strategic and International Studies Cyber Security Commission, the Steering Committee for BBBOnline, the TRUSTe Board of Directors and the Board of the International Association of Privacy Professionals. He is the author of many papers and articles on cybersecurity and privacy and has testified to Congress on these topics. Hoffman's research and teaching has been aided by funding from Intel Corporation, The Crypsis Group, The Media Trust, and Mine.

Hoffman has a JD from Duke Law School, where he was a member of the Duke Law Journal. He received an AB from Hamilton College.

Anthony Elton

Principal of the Office of the Chief Information Security Officer at Amazon Web Services

Anthony Elton is a Principal Security Advisor with the AWS Office of the CISO. He engages with customer security leadership and collaborates with internal service teams to continually innovate on behalf of customers. With over 30 years of experience leading information security investigations and operations, Anthony has specialized in developing strategies to enhance cybersecurity postures for government agencies and critical infrastructure sectors. Anthony understands the value of information sharing and publicprivate engagement, leveraging these collaborative approaches to improve overall cybersecurity resilience. Anthony is deeply involved in shaping Amazon's Active Defense program, which aims to better understand threat actors' behavior.

Arturo Cabanas

Security Assurance Principal at Amazon Web Services

Arturo Cabanas is currently Security Assurance Principal at Amazon Web Services (AWS) for the public sector in Latin America. In this role, Arturo creates programs that help Latin America Public Sector customers to move their workloads and regulated data to the cloud by meeting their specific cybersecurity, data privacy regulation, and compliance requirements.

Mr Cabanas' work also includes enabling public sector and regulated industry adoption of the AWS cloud, compliance with complex privacy and data localization regulations. Prior to joining AWS, Arturo spent 15 years with Fortune 500 companies' such as Oracle, Lenovo and Indra working directly with governments around Latin-American on IT procurement, cybersecurity and regulatory compliance, as well as designing and deploying cybersecurity and assurance software solutions.

Mr Cabanas holds a Bachelor of Computer Science and a Master in Business Administration (MBA) from IE Business Institute in Madrid, Spain and is a frequent keynote speaker with experience in translating complex technical issues into the language of any audience.

Greg Lisa

Senior Counsel for Global Regulatory at Hogan Lovells and former Interim Director of Compliance and Enforcement at the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network, or FinCEN

Gregory Lisa uses his experience in anti-money laundering and consumer protection to help clients navigate the expectations of regulators and law enforcement agencies, both civil and criminal. If those investigations turn into enforcement actions or litigation, Greg draws on his background as a federal prosecutor and enforcement attorney to defend his clients. He specializes in financial services, especially emerging payments and technology (including artificial intelligence), virtual currency, and the gaming industry.

After five years as a Partner at Hogan Lovells Cadwalader, he joined a firm client—a decentralized finance (DeFi) crypto company—to become its first Chief Legal Officer. Greg handled the company's government relations, litigation, compliance, corporate governance, and other legal functions. During his tenure, the company launched a crypto token, a market maker protocol, a non-fungible token, an offshore foundation, and a decentralized autonomous organization (DAO). Greg also co-founded a separate conference company providing training on anti-money laundering, sanctions, and illicit finance issues in the casino industry.
